The View on Windows 10

Windows 10 Update Goes from 'Optional' to 'Recommended'

Redmond
ChannelPartner

"Microsoft has bumped up Windows 10 from being an "optional update" in Windows Update to being a "recommended update," which could lead to some unexpected migrations...The status change likely means that some Windows 7/Windows 8.1 users will experience this notice in the form of a surprise, namely an unexpected upgrade to Windows 10. Traditionally, Windows Update served as just a patching mechanism, rather than an operating system upgrade solution, but Microsoft switched things around with Windows 10. Automatic upgrades are expected to happen..."

Q: My somewhat ancient Hewlett-Packard laptop is running Windows Vista, and I never see Vista mentioned in articles about upgrading operating systems. Can it be upgraded to Windows 10?

J.D. Biersdorfer has this to say about Windows 10-to-Vista in his February 18, 2016 Tech Tip column for The New York Times:

A: "Windows Vista is not mentioned in most articles about updating a computer to Windows 10 because Vista is not included in Microsoft's free upgrade offer for the new operating system. The free Windows 10 upgrade is available only to Windows 7 and Windows 8.1 users until July 29. If you are interested in moving from Windows Vista to Windows 10, you can get there by doing a time-consuming clean installation after buying the new operating system software, or by purchasing a new PC..."
